Energy Efficiency Charges for 2019

Level rates support same level of service

Efficiency Vermont is committed to advancing clean energy solutions that help you save money. The Energy Efficiency Charge (EEC) that appears on your electric bill each month helps us do that—enabling us to reduce the cost of efficient products and services, build our clean energy workforce, help businesses reduce operating costs, and much more.

In 2019, Efficiency Vermont's budget will remain the same as the prior year, resulting in flat EEC rates for commercial and industrial customers and a slight decrease in residential EEC rates. The chart below shows the new EEC rates for 2019, set by Vermont's Public Utility Commission. Energy efficiency is a key part of our state's strategy to provide low-cost, clean, and reliable power today and for years to come.
